

We inspire and ignite the health of the Inland Empire

Finance Coaching In-Kind Grant (2025)
Finance Coach Biography

Steve Ogilvie is an accomplished financial leader in the nonprofit community. Steve currently serves as the Accounting Manager for IEHP and is passionate about the work the Foundation is doing to increase the capacity of community-based organizations. Steve received his Bachelor of Science degree from California State University, San Bernardino and his received his CPA license while working as an auditor, auditing financial statements for many non-profit and governmental agencies throughout the Inland Empire.

Over the last thirty years, he has dedicated most of his career as the finance leader in small to very large non-profit entities in the Inland Empire, building accounting teams that pride themselves in their commitment to details of timely and accurate budgeting, accounting, and financial reporting of the organization's activities. During this time, he has established new accounting departments, implemented new accounting systems, and developed internal controls. Prior to joining IEHP Foundation, he spent the last several years as a consultant to non-profit organizations, assisting them with various levels of reporting and accounting needs.

As a committed professional to the non-profit community of the Inland Empire, he has served on the board of directors and various committees for many non-profit organizations, at the local and the national level.